

Emily O. GSSNE Girl Scout

Meet Emily. She is 10 years old, and a Girl Scout Junior with Attleboro Troop 890. She is a leader who isn't afraid to let her creative self shine and a proud member of the G.I.R.L. Media Team.

“The thing I love best about being a Girl Scout is that I get to bond with other Girl Scouts and connect with different people. You get different experiences.

I've been a Girl Scout for five years and I am learning that I can have a voice, and I can be heard. Girls can be whatever and whoever they want. For me, thanks to a trip with my troop, I learned I have an interest in nursing. I wouldn't have discovered that if I wasn't a Girl Scout.

Being a Girl Scout allows you more freedom to be what you want and speak your mind. Discover new things. You have room to figure out what you want, and what you need to do to achieve it.”

Your financial support is so very important as we build the next generation of girls—girls just like Emily.
